

Bank Database ER Diagram

Assumptions

- One employee can act as personal banker or loan officer of more customers. Each customer associated with only one employee.
- Employees can consist for only one branch. They can't work for more branches.
- Customer can have more accounts and an account can be held by more than one customer. Every customer has a account and every account has a one or more customers.